

Year of the Monkey

HAPPY NEW YEAR

February 8, 2016!!!

rippedjeansandbi.focallis.com

What is Chinese New Year?

People all over the world celebrate life and the beginning of the growing season.

This fun holiday is celebrated in many different ways: giving of red envelopes with "lucky money" brings good fortune in the new year. People all over the world celebrate with fireworks, watching the traditional "lion dance" and, as with any holiday, enjoying good food and the company of family and friends!

Gong Hey Fat Choy -- that means "wishing you health and prosperity!"

for more resources visit www.china-family-adventure.com

Year of the Monkey

HAPPY NEW YEAR

February 8, 2016!!!

rippedjeansandbi.focallis.com

What is Chinese New Year?

People all over the world celebrate life and the beginning of the growing season.

This fun holiday is celebrated in many different ways: giving of red envelopes with "lucky money" brings good fortune in the new year. People all over the world celebrate with fireworks, watching the traditional "lion dance" and, as with any holiday, enjoying good food and the company of family and friends!

Gong Hey Fat Choy -- that means "wishing you health and prosperity!"

for more resources visit www.china-family-adventure.com